

“Committed to Training Excellence”

Thank you for your interest in MHS Training Pty Ltd courses. This is an outline of the course, course content and vocational outcomes.

More information is available from the Administration Office on the contact numbers above.

Course Name    Certificate III in Aged Care Work    National Code    CHC30102

Vocational opportunities:

This course provides successful candidates with the minimum qualification for entry to the Aged Care industry. This certificate qualifies the holder at the level of Assistant in Nursing to work in nursing homes, hostels and other aged care institutions. If you are already working in the industry speak with one of our trainers about Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL). RPL requires a separate application for assessment.

Course Structure:

The program is composed of core and elective units. The elective units offered by MHS are listed. The electives have been selected by MHS Course Coordinators and provide maximum employment opportunities.

In addition successful candidates will have demonstrated competency in Disability, Home and Community Services and Dementia modules, providing access to a variety of institutional settings and careers.

The course involves practical and theoretical components. Some training and assessments will be conducted in a clinical setting. It is recommended that students be immunised against Hepatitis B. Inoculations should begin prior to the commencement of study.

Course Content:

All core units listed must be completed for the award of the Certificate.

Delivery of Elective Units may vary from time to time so confirm with your local MHS Training branch before confirming your enrolment.
